

VANGUARD

1959

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY 1959

DEDICATION

Some of you graduates came to Roosevelt University directly from high school; others transferred from other colleges and universities. Each received a different impression of the school, not only because some were freshmen and others sophomores and juniors, but also because no two persons react in the same way to the same situation. Therefore the memories which these pictures will awaken will be varied; some pleasant, others amusing, and still others perhaps a little sad.

Even those of you who came to Roosevelt as freshmen reacted differently to the school. Some were just a little apprehensive of the work, the instructors, and the idea of being in college; others didn't like the school at first. Students who transferred from other universities as sophomores and juniors compared Roosevelt to their old schools—both favorably and unfavorably.

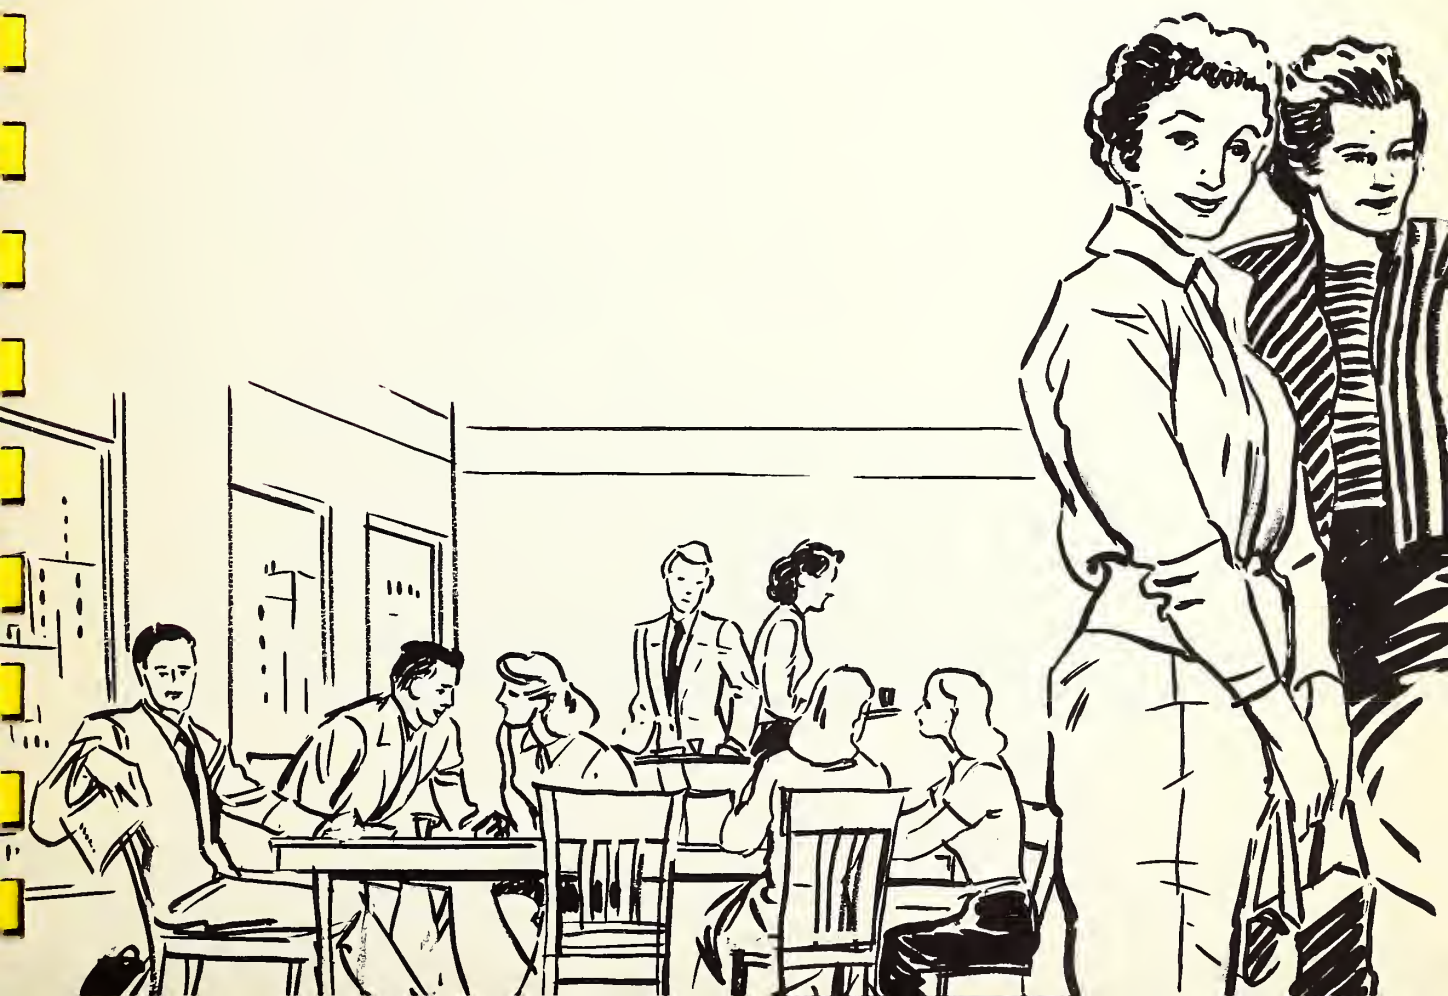

However, regardless of whether or not you liked your classes, instructors, and the other students, there were little things that happened of which the word "Roosevelt" will always remind you—the lunchroom and coffee shop, with their smoke, noise, crowded tables with ten students where there were supposed to be six; the lines at the counter for coffee which seemed to last forever; the elevators which were out of order only and always when you were late for class or had to go from your 3rd floor locker to the library-these seven flights of stairs may be good for the figure IF you live to enjoy it!; and the day of a test for which you never seemed to be prepared-you didn't exactly want the instructor to be sick-but if he only would have decided to take an unexpected vacation for a few days!

The library was mentioned-where only you were yelled at for talking-never any of the others who were always talking, LOUDLY, while this was the first thing you had said in the last hour. Of course, there were always lectures, concerts, dedications of new rooms, and HOMECOMING. There wasn't a HOMECOMING in 1956, but there were HOMECOMING weekends in 1957, 1958, and 1959.

And it is to you, the graduates of the three classes of 1959, February, June, and September, that the VANGUARD of 1959 is dedicated-it is your book.

EDUCATION - MIND AND SPIRIT

By

Edward J. Sparling
President
Roosevelt University

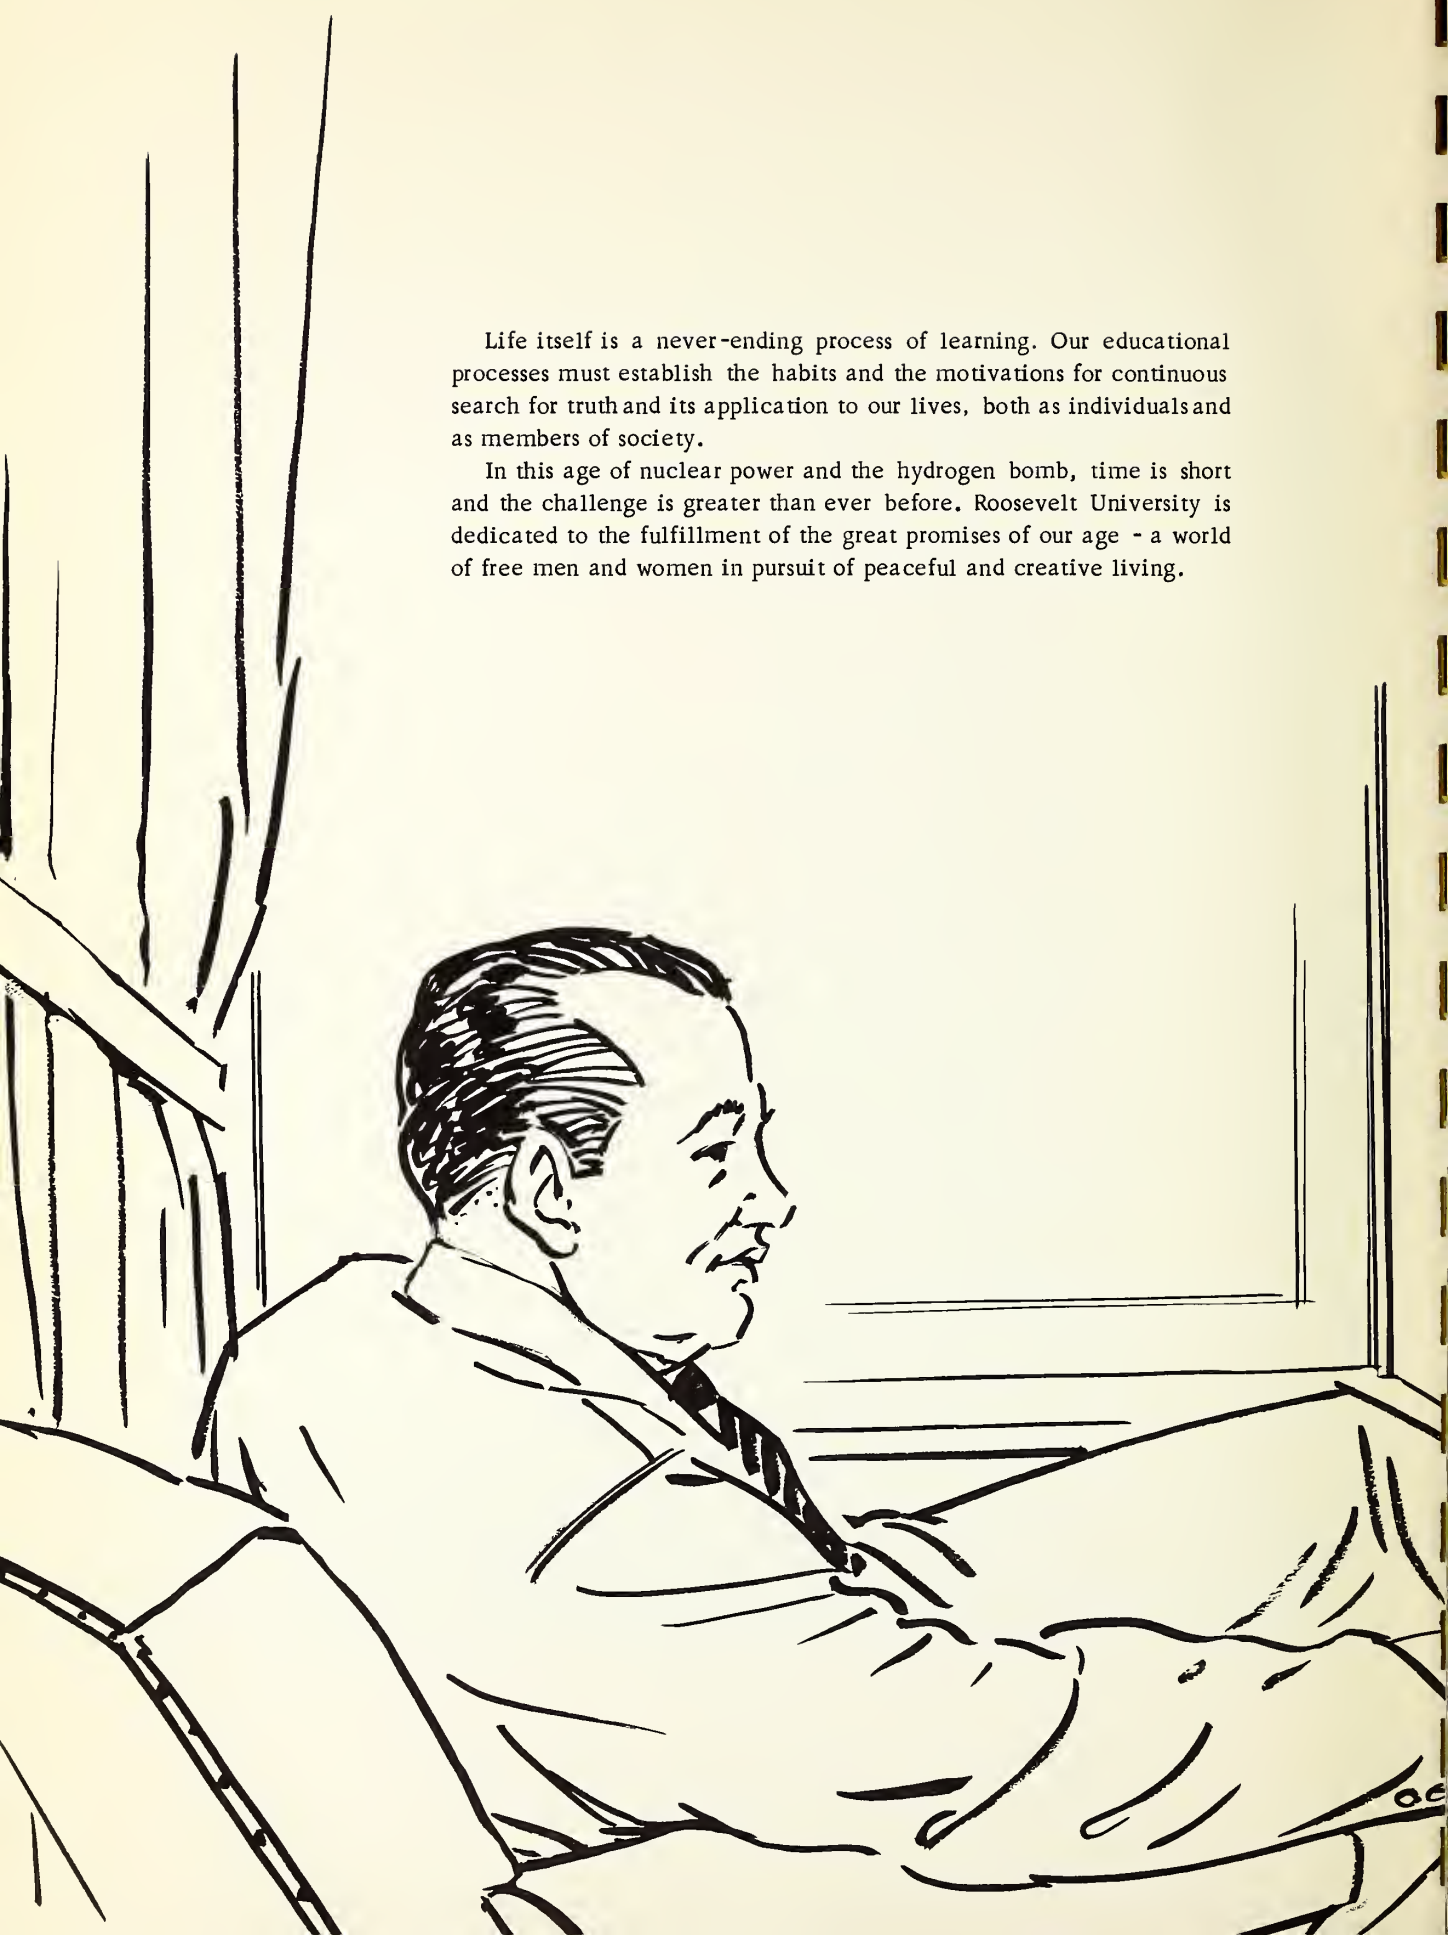

Horace Mann once made a statement that in genuine education we would not be interested in producing the "unscrupulous genius or the virtuous ignoramus". The statement is a reminder that in education we can neglect neither the mind nor the spirit if we are to be instrumental in developing the human being to his greatest capacity, and if we are to preserve and extend the best of experiences of the human race to the end that men everywhere might live in peace and harmony.

When Roosevelt University was founded in 1945, the underlying principles stressed freedom for the faculty to seek the truth and to teach the truth, so that expanding intellectual horizons might become a constant factor in our democratic way of life.

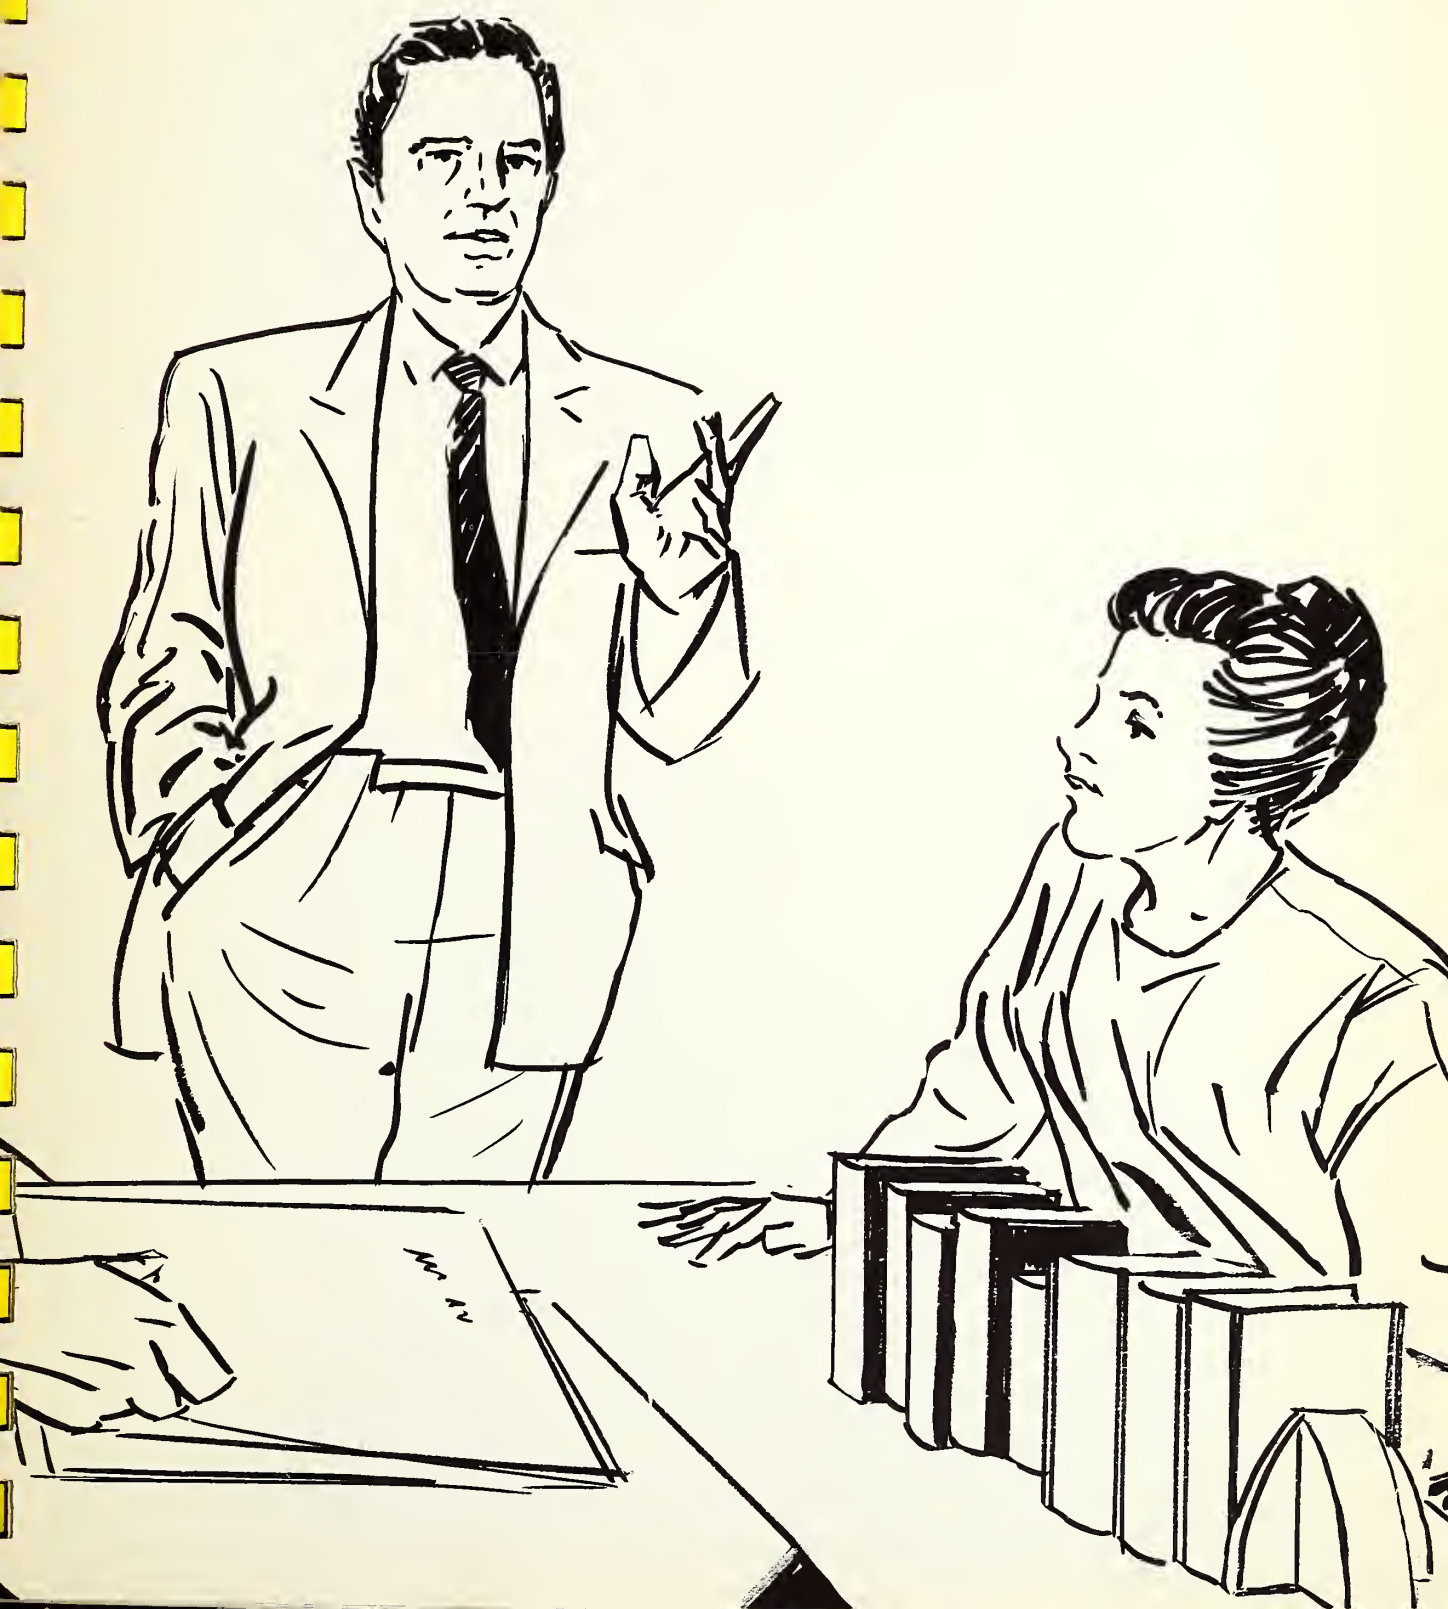

Along with that emphasis there was also the emphasis on the equality of opportunity for all eligible students, regardless of race, creed, or color, or sex, to pursue higher education so that there might be maximum development and growth of the individual for fulfillment in living.

Life itself is a never-ending process of learning. Our educational processes must establish the habits and the motivations for continuous search for truth and its application to our lives, both as individuals and as members of society.

In this age of nuclear power and the hydrogen bomb, time is short and the challenge is greater than ever before. Roosevelt University is dedicated to the fulfillment of the great promises of our age - a world of free men and women in pursuit of peaceful and creative living.

SULLIVAN ROOM

The dedication of the Sullivan Room by President Sparling was the formal opening of not only the Sullivan Room itself, but also of the new informal student lounge on the 2nd floor. The informal lounge is used all the time, while the Sullivan Room is reserved for special occasions.

The physical education program at Roosevelt University is varied in spite of the lack of facilities. Making as much use as possible of the surrounding area, such as the Grant Park tennis courts, the students enjoy a well-rounded sports' program, ranging from ballet to football.

125 Seniors had a wonderful time at their Senior Class Party which was held at the Old Town Ale House. It was one of the last times that the class was together before graduation.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming Weekend, highlighted by the Homecoming Dance and the crowning of the Queen, is an event which, although participated in by the entire student body, actually belongs to the alumni. You who are graduating are now becoming part of this group. Therefore we felt that this yearbook should end with HOMECOMING, which represents your future as well as your past four years at Roosevelt University.
